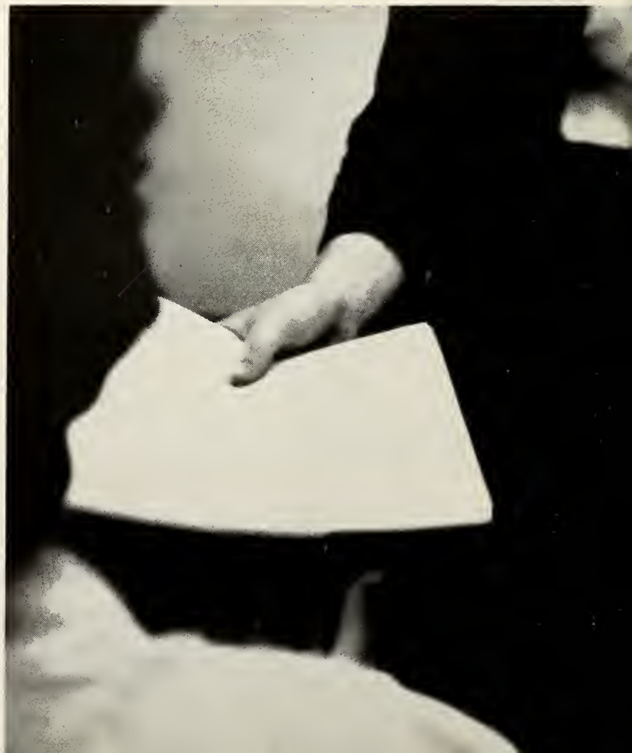
w girl . . . more serious than most . . .
what makes you different?



Constant hurry . . . bicycles . . . classes . . . books . . . knowledge . . . condense life into six hour courses and memorize it . . . whistle blows . . . shut one facet out and open to another . . . tests . . . a measure . . . were you confident or unsure?

social clubs . . . important to some . . .
warm bonds that don't exclude other friendships . . .
yet here not a criterion for success hours in the classroom . . .

learning from more than books

time for him . . . time for them . . .
time for meetings . . . time behind the scenes . . .
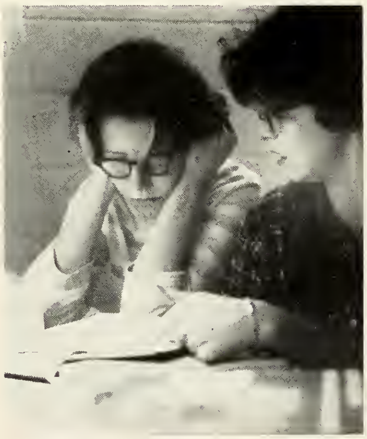
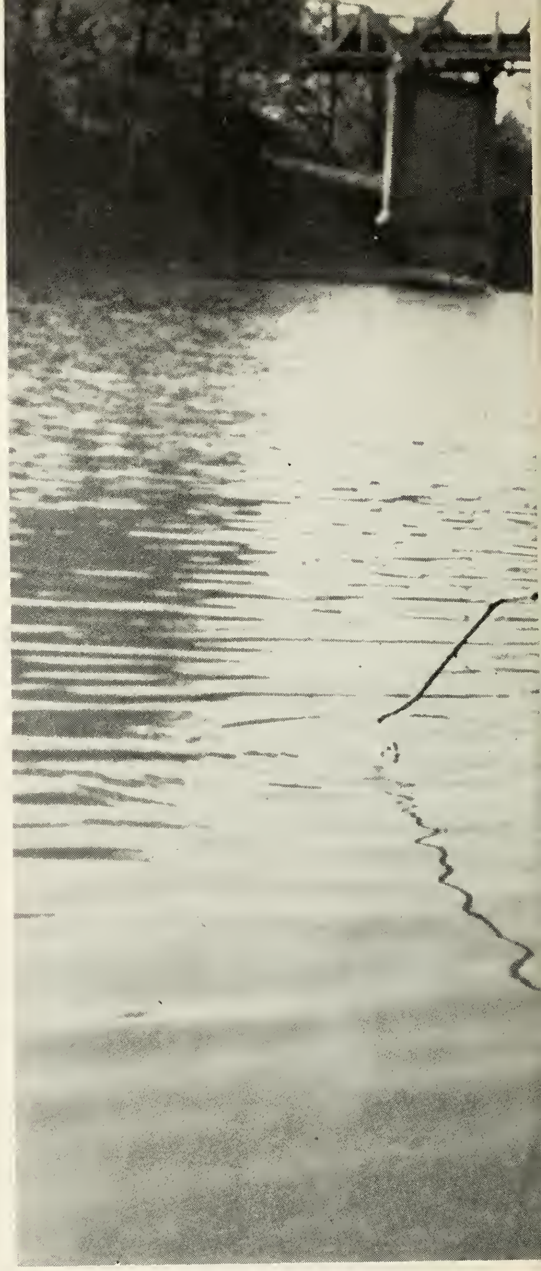
later . . . no time for learning concentrated thoughts . . . pooling resources . . .

funny little customs . . . shower for a pin . . .
make your own pleasure



3 1833 03304 6423

have or have not . . . no matter here



i should have made an "a"

speaking for yourself . . . doing the little things someone else always did for you . . . getting to know yourself—daring to be yourself parental or personal . . . it's your choice now . . . your decisions . . . your thoughts . . . your time . . . this school has left its mark on what you will be . . . what will you make of yourself?

dedication

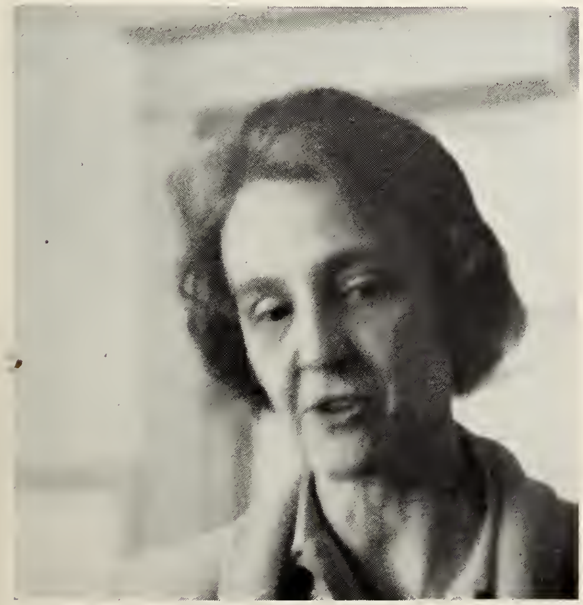
Miss Terry, we the class of 1964 with respectful love and admiration dedicate our Meh Lady to you.

arranging our lives before we even come . . . making friends of us when college is still a nebulous idea . . . personally interested in each of her girls . . .

quietly efficient . . . always ready to listen . . . unraveling our problems so we hardly know they exist . . . making them almost trivia . . .

throughout more than just the academic year she produces the finished plan . . .

unassuming—preparing our home away from home . . . our beloved—Miss Louise Terry.



teachers . . . friends . . . our challenge for tomorrow . . .

What is it to be a college president—
It is to be a leader . . . a scholar . . . a friend . . . a man.

For us he has been a leader . . . making tomorrow's dreams a reality; for us he has been a scholar . . . evoking a want for knowing; for us he has been a friend . . . giving more than he must; for us he has been a man—an individual—more than a leader, more than a scholar, more than a friend.

campus wide organizations

phi kappa phi

Phi Kappa Phi was founded in 1897 and became a national organization through the efforts of the presidents of three state universities. Its primary objective has been, from the first, the recognition and encouragement of superior scholarship in all fields of study. Good character is an essential supporting attribute to those elected to membership. Chapters elect from all schools of their respective universities, thus providing a coordinating influence.

The efforts of Phi Kappa Phi are directed toward the fulfillment of its motto—"The love of learning rules the world." Supplementing the work of its chapters, the Society devotes its income to the annual award of fellowships for first-year graduate study, the erection of funds to endow both publication and fellowships, and the publication of a journal.

Golden Key was organized in the Spring of 1956 by members of Phi Beta Kappa on the faculty of MSCW. The purpose was to establish a scholastic honorary society which would have requirements similar to those of Phi Beta Kappa, oldest Greek letter society in the U.S.

To qualify for membership, a student must be completing the last semester of her senior year and have a cumulative academic average which places her in the ninetieth percentile rank of her class. She must have not less than ninety hours of liberal arts and sciences, and must be majoring in a liberal subject. (The Phi Beta Kappa Bulletin says that courses in literature, languages, philosophy, religion, the fine arts, history, social sciences, mathematics, and the nature sciences, if properly taught, fall within the area of liberal subjects.) Her courses may include thirty hours or more of applied and professional work provided she has ninety hours of liberal work, and her liberal work must include six hours of a foreign language at a two hundred level. She must never have been convicted by the Student Association of any dishonesty in attaining her academic rank.

Canterbury Club endeavors to promote the study of the doctrines and teachings of the Episcopal Church. The girls meet weekly for study programs, and in addition to their own self-improvement, they work with the congregation of the local parish church and the Mississippi and National Canterbury Association on world service projects.

hottentot social club

The Hottentot, a savage uncivilized creature, became a gay socialite in 1924. Hottentots is composed of thirty-five outstanding girls chosen from all four classes. Three symbols show the purpose of Hottentots. The horse symbolizes good sportsmanship; the star signifies the higher things in life; and the hour-glass represents the everlasting and enduring friendship among Hottentots.

One dark night, members dressed in black with gold horses "wiggle" across the campus to take their pledges. Somewhere, a secret ceremony takes place. Pledges are initiated at a formal banquet in the Tea Room in the fall, and members attend a Christmas party and a picnic in the spring for the senior members.

Wearing the somber black and golden horses of Hottentots are: Mary Grace Hays, Secretary-Treasurer; Susan Betts, President; and Frenchie Gulledge, Vice-President.

the black list

The Black List was founded on October 31, 1914, and is considered to be the oldest social organization on campus. Originally this group was formed and perpetuated to honor thirteen outstanding members of the Junior Class who best had endured the hazing of an old MSCW practice called "Hell Week."

In 1933, when "Hell Week" was banned, the Black List Social Club was formed. In 1961, this club reverted to its original status, an honorary organization—THE BLACK LIST. Each year on Stunt Night the senior members recognize thirteen outstanding Juniors who have met the qualifications of leadership, school spirit, and promise of contributing to the continuation of The Black List.

luck, but to these twenty-six girls, such a symbol represents one of the very highest honors attainable on this compus. The prestige is shown in the proud faces of the girls who wear the silver bracelets, white sweaters, eyepatches, and the red X, and who carry the pistols and wooden paddles—the traditional insignia of the Black List.

Outstanding activities are the Homecoming program for the Black List Alumnae and the breakfast for the seniors held in June.

Jingling, colorful collars on diamond-shaped plaques can mean only one thing—Jesters.

Since their organization in 1949, these things have symbolized the ties binding members, pledges and alumnae.

Each year twelve juniors are selected for membership in the Jesters. They are chosen on the basis of leadership, character, contribution to MSCW and qualities representative of club members.

After a period of pledging designed to bring members and pledges closer together, Jester plaques are exchanged for the traditional white sweaters and silver bracelets bearing the emblem of the laughing Jester.

Filling the year are campus projects, the annual homecoming program for returning alumnae, a house party and the traditional banquet on April Fool's Day—the Jesters' birthday. Climaxing a year of fun and fellowship together is the annual breakfast honoring the graduating seniors and their parents.

In 1929 eleven seniors formed an organization known on the MSCW campus as PGA, the real name known only to its members.

With the end of the annual Hell Week in 1932, the members of PGA, in order to insure their traditions and ritual, assumed its present name of MASKERS. Since that time, its membership has consisted of eleven Seniors. The seniors pledge the eleven Juniors who they feel best exemplify the qualities of a Masker.

A long-stemmed red rose, asafetida, a bracelet, a paddle, and a white sweater—these are the outward signs of the spirit which not only binds the present Maskers together, but also all those who ever have and who will proudly wear the BLACK MASK.

A small silver crown with an Old English "C" is the emblem worn by all Countesses. At their inspiring initiation service, pledges exchange their pledge pins for membership pins, which are worn by all members. The pin is an outward sign of inner and lasting friendship among the girls.

The Countess Social Club was organized on the Mississippi State College for Women campus in 1958. The club received its official Crest in 1963, featuring its motto, "Faith, Equality, and Love."

The purpose of the club is to develop a bond of friendship between the four classes. This is accomplished by the balance of social life and achievement found in this organization. One of the many outstanding services is their inspiring Ritual of Secret Sister.

Now in its second year, the D'Belles (Dixie Belles) Social Club is maintaining an outstanding record on the MSCW campus. Members proudly wearing the club's emblem, the Mississippi magnolia, can be seen in all campus activities.

The sisterhood of D'Belles strives to exemplify the ideal of Southern womanhood with a fourfold purpose of promoting friendship among the classes, loyalty to our Alma Mater, scholastic achievement, and a spirit of true Southern hospitality. In the area of scholastic achievement, the club is well represented in the Honors Program and class and departmental fraternities.

Highlights for the year included a very successful rush, a Big Sister party, Christmas banquet, house party, and a spring get-together honoring the Seniors.

The Gauntlet, a chivalric symbol of valor, truth and faithfulness, was chosen in 1952 by twenty sophomores as the emblem of their close organization. Into this social club girls are pledged in order that they may share with the members a mutual love and respect for the Gauntlet. A tiny shield bearing the Gauntlet, a sword, an olive branch and the name "Gauntlet" forms the silver necklace which is worn by initiated members.

The esoteric grins displayed by these girls are ample proof that theirs is a fast bond of love and that their activities are always fun. Among the activities are numerous spend-the-night parties, the annual Christmas party for needy children, an Easter Egg Hunt for Palmer orphans, the initiation banquet, and the spring House Party. Through the years, as Gauntlets, this fun-loving group remembers their vows of faithfulness, valor and truth.

When this Scottish club was organized in 1958, it selected as its goals friendship, scholarship, and loyalty, and vowed to strive for a better understanding between faculty and social club members.

These fun-loving Highlanders don their traditional kilts for events during the year such as the Christmas party, Big-Little Sister parties, and the impressive initiation service. Other highlights of the year's activities include the annual house party and hours spent with orphaned and needy children.

The necklace worn by the members is a modified Scottish coat-of-arms signifying the name, Highlanders. This eight-sided emblem is symbolic of a closely knit group, and of the spirit which is prevalent throughout the "clan."

The traditions and ideals of knighthood have been incorporated by the Lancers to signify the things for which they stand. Tempering knightly justice and fair play with a courtly love for fun and fellowship, members and pledges enjoy numerous social events throughout the year. Highlights of the year's events are the initiation banquet, Christmas party, Big Sister party, and the house party in the spring.

When the Lancer organization was founded in 1958, a black etched helmet on a silver shield was adopted as the club emblem. Red and black are the colors, and the red carnation is the flower. Members share a general feeling by becoming "Diutinus Amicus"—long lasting friends.

The tiny gold hearts worn by the members of the Lockheart Social Club are symbols of the friendship and love existing among the four college classes. The proud pledges, chosen for their outstanding character and personality, become members in an impressive candle-lit ceremony at which they receive gold hearts in exchange for the fragrant cedar pledge hearts. Lockhearts enjoy heart-warming get-togethers throughout the year such as picnics at Lee Park, parties at Miss Berryman's house, and banquets on various occasions. Lockhearts was founded in 1938, and since then has established for itself a prominent place on the Mississippi State College for Women campus.

During the autumn months, thirty-six tiny silver and black onxy pledge pins, bears the Fleur-de-lis, are worn by the thirty-six proud pledges of the Mam'selle Social Club. The history of their club dates back to 1954, when a group of sophomores chose the Fleur-de-lis, emblem of the royal house of France, and Mam'selle, an adaption of the French word for lady, as the symbol and name of their organization. Since that time the club has developed to include all four classes—close in friendship, and strong in the bonds of love.

Together the girls develop the object and goal of Mam-selle by taking part in the Kidnap breakfast, the Christmas party, bunking parties at the lodge, the Big Sister-Little Sister party, banquets, and spring house party. After the period of pledging, the little sisters are initiated at a candlelight ceremony. There they exchange their pledge pins for the Fleur-de-lis pin and guard, its silvery beams binding them in love and friendship forever.

Proud pledges, wearing white gloves bearing the top hat and cane, were seen on the campus this year as Revelers. The Reveler Social Club was organized in 1956 as a Junior-Senior Club. In the fall of 1961, because of a period of transition and change on our campus, Revelers extended their period of membership to four years.

The symbols of Reveler membership consist of white gloves—the ancient symbol of reveling and merry fellowship—a silver pin, a paddle, and a mug, each bearing the top hat and cane. The purpose of the Revelers is to promote a lasting bond of friendship and love among the four classes; striving to embody all the qualities of sisterhood, leadership, scholarship, class spirit, and loyalty to our club and our college.

The Rogue Social Club was formed in 1938 by a group of 13 fun-loving Cavaliers. Our purpose is to promote friendship among the four classes, to maintain the club's traditions and high standards, to encourage individual excellence in leadership and scholarship, to participate in service campaigns on campus, and to sponsor club civic projects. Our symbol is the ball and chain. The ball signifies our unity; the chain, the tie of sisterhood that joins us one to the other.

The rose, the emblem of Rosettes, is known as the symbol of beauty and chairm. Freshmen girls are pledged into this social club to bind the Freshmen and upperclassmen students in closer friendship. After a period of pledging, the girls are initiated into the sisterhood in an impressive ceremony in which they exchange the silver rose drop of the pledge for the tiny silver pin of the member. The members of Rosettes enjoy early-morning breakfasts, nights at the lodge, Christmas party for the orphans, banquets, houseparty, and the spring formal. By participating in extracurricular activities and maintaining a high scholastic average, the girls of the Rosette Social Club live up to the high standards of their club and lend their loving devotion to their club and to our beloved college.

Since its organization in 1951, Silhouettes has established a prominent place for itself on the campus and succeeded in its aim of uniting the girls of Silhouettes in the bonds of friendship and love.

At initiation, diamond-shaped plaques worn by pledges are exchanged for dainty mother-of-pearl necklaces bearing the Old English "S." This "S" and the lace fan are outward symbols of the deep and lasting affection the girls of Silhouettes have for one another.

Throughout the year, the Silhouettes join together for many activities, such as the Thanksgiving Service, the Christmas party, spring date supper and the service projects sponsored by the club, the Silhouettes work together toward a common goal—everlasting sisterhood.

The Troubadour Social Club, maintaining a prominent place among the clubs on the campus, is composed of members from each of the four classes. Throughout the year, the bonds of friendship and sisterhood between the members are strengthened by frequent get-togethers designed for fun and for service to others.

The emblem of the Troubadours is a triangle bearing the symbol of a mandolin and the Old English "T," indicating the gay, wandering minstrel from which the club takes its name. The pledges, chosen for their outstanding character and personality, receive the black and silver pins in exchange for their tiny blue pledge pins in an impressive candlelight ceremony.

In work or play, the Troubadors prove they truly know the meaning of real fellowship and lasting love and loyalty.

a true picture is not an easy thing to capture and transmit: for three years this editor has watched,
probed,
questioned,
evaluated,
pumped,
. . . even hounded
students and non-students to find the true image of what is mscw . . . what is a "w" girl . . .?

In many cases, they are one and the same. They are like no others, they have good points, unique qualities that are not to be given up . . . but there are, of course, imperfections.

The purpose of a yearbook is to give a true picture of the year it captures . . . never should it degenerate to the level of being just another picture brochure projecting the idealistic "image" put forth by such publications. We, ourselves, do not like some of the views expressed in this book; but they are true, according to the student body. We admit that a lot of facts revealed in this Meh Lady represent things that should not be; but we would be poor journalists if we disguised, hid, or glossed these things over.

In not hiding the faults of our school, we give you, the persons vitally connected with this institution, a picture to improve. This picture may shock some; but we challenge anyone to take a fair survey of opinion on this campus and to come up with a picture that differs very much from the one we present in these pages.

We ask but one thing—search the truths within these covers . . . question them—not for what should be, but for what actually exists. If you find, as we did, this the picture, in places, is not what it should be . . . then stand up and do something about it. Those of you who are students, let your voice be heard . . . freedom of speech does exist here, if you refuse to be intimidated. When you leave here, do not let the rosy glow of sentimentality cloud your sense of duty to this school, which is uniquely fine and potentially so much better than that. You can do more as an alumna than as a student to make your college ". . . greater, better, and more beautiful than when you entered it." That is, if you know what MSCW is all about and care about it.

Most of you will never know the problems which face the publication of such a book as a college annual, and we would not wish that knowledge upon you. You can never fully realize the value of the help given us by others, the worth of which we want all of you to know. We have such a great depth of gratitude, of the most humble thankfulness to such people as:

Mr. Norman Shaw, friend and consultant, helpful advisor, and patient executive of Benson Printing Company . . .

The Grings, so kind and helpful—the hard-working family—never hesitating to do just a little extra photographic work—always ready with a gentle morale booster . . .

Mr. Neil Woodruff; willing camera man; the perfect, understanding advisor—veritable work-horse . . .

Nan Michael—fellow editor . . . friend . . . gentle brake for runaway journalism . . .

Mr. Joe Sarcone, creative, enthusiastic photographer, happy to do pictures over and over again to get just the "right" effect, always ready to aid the drooping ego of an amateur photographer . . .

Mr. E. E. Nichols—special thanks for his advice on artwork and for his voluntary instruction in photographic retouching methods . . .

Alabama Engraving Company—makers of accurate, fine-quality plates . . .

our staff—cooperative, loyal, enthusiastic—making the quality of this book possible . . .

finally, you, the students—thank you for participating in all of the many schedules we set up for you; for your patience; and for putting up with our Irish-German temper.

And so, you have come to the last page of another MEH LADY—We did not say the "end," because we do not wish it to be such. We hope you hold a little of the affection for it that we do—that you will return to its pages many times in the years to come.
